1. [REDACTED] called to say that recently the Air Force gave a detailed [REDACTED] briefing to [REDACTED] DD/NRO, and that it would be a good idea if we would plan to give [REDACTED] a detailed briefing on the airplanes programs - capabilities, flexibilities, etc. He also said it would be to our advantage to pump [REDACTED] on the strong facets of our programs to enable him to better understand and operate in the airplane arena. Unless [REDACTED] is informed on [REDACTED] he said we should also include it as a topic. Wednesday, 13 August, 10 AM, has been tentatively set up as the time for the briefing over at NRO. I told him we would confirm this Monday.

2. I did not want to convey to [REDACTED] that we were seeing [REDACTED] today. It might be a good idea if we ask [REDACTED] whether he wants the above briefing. Also, if he is interested - a briefing on the A-12 program for his edification.
